The election filed March 4, 2002 has been entered and made of record as paper no. 7.

Applicant's election without traverse of species 1 (figures 3-5) in Paper No. 7 is acknowledged.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-7, 13, and 17-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Duvvury et al (US-5493133).

Duvvury discloses an ESD protection circuit in figure 2 comprising a substrate (44), a first doped region (54) and a second doped region (52) separated from the first doped region by only the substrate region in which the ESD protection device does not have a gate electrode. It would have been obvious that Duvvury teaches the claimed device.

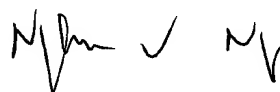

Claims 23-26 and 28 are alternatively rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Duvvury in view of Mackawa.

Mackawa discloses an ESD protection circuit comprising two voltage sources (VDD and GND), an external bonding pad (1704), and two protection circuits (1700 and 1702). It would have been obvious to combine the teachings of Duvvury and Mackawa to form the claimed device.

The other references are cited to show other structures pertinent to Applicant's disclosure.
